

WOLFE VETS

HOSPITAL, EMERGENCY & CRITICAL CARE

Wolfe Vets understands how important it is that your patients receive the care they need, swiftly and skilfully, twenty four hours a day.

WHO WE ARE

We are inner London's only independently owned overnight and referral centre. We are now opening our overnight service to other vet clinics.

Dr. James Bennett RCVS Recognised Advanced Practitioner in Small Animal Surgery: founded Wolfe Vets and has led it to become one of only a few centres in London, equipped to offer overnight care, advanced diagnostics and treatment that includes spinal, soft tissue and orthopaedic surgery.

Dr. Alonso Dupuy PhD MRCVS
Alonso has been a practicing veterinary surgeon for over 20 years, having graduated as a vet in Spain in 1998. There are few vets in London with his breadth of experience. Alonso was awarded a PhD in Pharmacology and Toxicology, with honours, in 2016 and has published widely in the scientific literature.

WHAT WE DO:

- Treating people and their pets' with humanity is at the core of our mission.
- We never lose sight that pet owners are a vital part in the triangle of patient care.
- We look after your clients like our own, while communicating with your vets, before handing them back for your care.
- We appreciate and understand that it is the referring vet practices that are our clients.
- Our service to you can cover your out of hours responsibilities and unforeseen shortages in service.
- We provide ongoing treatment for cases that need hospitalisation, from simple rehydration to managing patients with feeding tubes, blood transfusions or complex medical needs.
- We also take surgical referrals.
- We can offer support and advice on cases that you are managing in the day time and take patient referrals when you need.
