WEST LONDON'S LEADING INDEPENDENT VETERINARY PRACTICE

Wolfe Vets opened in Chiswick in Summer 2020 after a comprehensive and state of the art fit out of its dedicated pet hospital. We are proud to be independent, providing exceptional care for the pets of London. We are here when you need us, we are the experts that you can trust.

Founded by James Bennett, RCVS Recognised Advanced Practitioner in Small Animal Surgery. London's only dual certificate holder in Small Animal Surgery and Feline Practice, supported by a dedicated team of vets and nurses including certificate holders in emergency medicine, critical care and also nutrition.

We love seeing happy pets living life to the full, it is a privilege to be able help them stay that way. We have dogs and cats too, so really do know how it feels to worry about them being sick.

This is not your usual general practice, Wolfe Vets was made to save lives using advanced surgical and medical techniques, while also remaining the friendly place that provides all of the routine vaccinations, travel advice, neutering, high quality pet foods and dental care you would expect at your local family practice.

If you want a calm, expert and compassionate practice to care for your pets, this is it.

Wolfe Vets has invested heavily to create a fully up to date and advanced veterinary hospital with facilities including:

- CT Scanner arriving in October 2021
- separate dog and cat waiting areas and accommodation for happy and calm stays with us
- two dedicated operating theatres for routine and specialised procedures
- human hospital standard digital diagnostic suites
- minimally invasive testing and treatment to keep our patients comfortable
- an ultra-hygienic air exchange system to minimise the spread of infectious disease
- full dentistry for aching teeth
- comprehensive in house laboratory testing and critical care cover

We are becoming a regional centre of excellence by putting our patients at the centre of all of our plans. Over the past year we have helped over 1800 patients recover from ill health, major surgery and life threatening conditions. We are committed to getting pets better.

As an independent practice we can focus all of our time on the service we provide to patients and their owners. All of our decisions are made locally, we are not under the influence of distant centres of control. You, our clients, have direct access to the people who make decisions on the running of the hospital and you can rest assured that our fees are dependent on our local costs, not on central budgets. Our service is genuine value for money and we will invest in our facilities and staff to continue to be the best vets available. We want to care for your pets better than you can get care for yourselves.

Animal welfare is at the heart of everything we do, not only for our patients but also for those animals not lucky enough to be under our care: we have set up the Wolfe Foundation and will vaccinate an animal in need every time that we vaccinate a pet in the clinic, we will also fund the training of farmers in the developing world and help save the Painted Wolf from extinction. We have already made over £2000 of donations to our chosen projects.

We look forward to welcoming you to Wolfe Vets: we are excited to care for our patients. Pets are crucial to our lives but sadly they get sick, when they do we are here to make them better.
